Theological Reflections and Practical Resources for Socially Distanced Ministry

Welcome to the landing page for The Scattered Church. We're glad you're here.

As the COVID-19 pandemic stretches into months of imagining and reimagining the ways we gather as disciples of Jesus, the offices that make up the Office of Theology, Formation, and Evangelism ministry area have worked to gather resources to help congregational and new worshiping community leaders consider both theological and practical resources that provide shape and grounding for our efforts to answer the call of Christ to the Church in this moment.

The resources here are designed for pastoral leaders, sessions, and worship committees who are seeking faithful and creative ways to gather as communities of witness online and in alternative ways as well as in safe in person ways as local circumstances permit.

What's here?

Theological reflections and discernment questions for leaders who are evaluating the virtual gathering methods available to us.
