Additional Needs

Mission partners can buy certain items from local dealers or have them made by local workers, thus contributing to the local economy as well as eliminating shipping. Also, many essential items may be purchased in countries closer to where they will be used, resulting in lower shipping costs. These include hospital or related medical needs, including:

Sheets and blankets

Baby needs—according to the discretion of the hospital

Bicycles—used by health workers in Africa to visit homes where they help families provide care for a loved one with HIV/AIDS.

Mattresses—desperately needed to replace outworn, unsanitary mattresses in hospitals.

Education for nurses—offering medical training to people in the area being served means offers employment opportunities as well as healing for those being served

The National Health Ministries program has been discontinued.
